

ERRATUM

There was an error in the figure (p. 211) in the report entitled “Using paired-choice assessment to identify variables maintaining sleep problems in a child with severe disabilities” by Mark F. O’Reilly, Giulio E. Lancioni, and Jeff Sigafoos, which appeared in the Summer, 2004, issue of the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis (pp. 209–212). Both the top and bottom panels of the figure show the same data (i.e., time of sleep onset), whereas the top panel of the figure should show the number of times the participant exited the room each night (as indicated in the figure caption). The correct graph for the top panel of the figure for the above-referenced article is shown below. The figure in the electronic version of this article on the JABA Web site has been corrected.
